

MEET BEST-SELLING AUTHOR PIERS PAUL READ

He's the best-selling author of the dramatic non-fiction title, Alive: The Story of the Andes Survivors, later made into an acclaimed film. As a biographer, he was chosen to write the official account of Sir Alec Guinness's life. His novels have won praise and awards. And now he's headed back to the bestseller lists with his new novel of suspense, The Death of a Pope.

In Piers Paul Read's The Death of a Pope, we meet Juan Uriarte, a handsome and outspoken Spanish ex-priest, seems to be the model of nonviolence and compassion for the poor and downtrodden. So why is he on trial, accused of terrorist activities? His worldwide Catholic charitable outreach program is suspected of being a front for radicals. The trial is covered by Kate Ramsay, a young British reporter, who sets out to uncover the truth about Uriarte and his work. She travels with him to Africa to see his work first hand but soon finds herself attracted to him.

Meanwhile an international conspiracy is growing, one that reaches into the Vatican itself. When the death of Pope John Paul II brings about the conclave that will elect Joseph Ratzinger as Pope Benedict XVI, a terrorist plot involving blackmail, subterfuge, and mass murder begins to fall into place . . . a plot that could spell disaster for the Catholic Church and the world.

"If John le Carré took on Vatican politics, his book of suspense might aspire to be much like this one."

— Ron Hansen, Author of Mariette in Ecstasy and The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford
